WHAT IS CLAIMED IS

ı	A method	of cont	rolling	the co	mmunication	of ransmission	station
said meth	nod compris	sing the	steps o	f:

receiving television programming from a plurality of television programming sources; receiving programming communication instructions designating for each unit of television programming at least one from the group consisting of:

- (a) an output channel to be used in communicating said unit of television programming; and
- (b) the time said unit of television programming is to be communicated; and communicating each unit of television programming from said transmission station to at least one subscriber according to said programming communication instructions.

Add Add Add Add Add D2